

1. Allship Engineering is a medium sized enterprise organisation working in a supply chain with larger Defence and marine industry companies. Allship maintains contractual relationships with repair agents throughout Australia in the manufacturing, installation, and repair of Defence parts and components. Allship prides itself on being a trusted partner of Government, and an employer of over 25% Australian Defence Force veterans. This enables Allship Engineering to harness the extensive range of skills, qualifications, and experience critical to Defence Industries. Allship provides mechanical fitting, rigging, insulation, import and export services, as well as a variety of other relevant services through a network of Subcontractors.
2. To meet the needs and requirements of Interested Parties, Allship has implemented a Quality Management System (QMS) to help achieve its objectives. Document Q007 – Quality Management Plan details the structure of the QMS and how Allship meets the requirements of International Standard ISO 9001-2015.
3. The objectives of the Quality Management System are:
  - a. To maintain accreditation to ISO 9001:2015 by DNV indefinitely
  - b. Satisfying legal, compliance and all other applicable requirements and obligations
  - c. Timely Investigation of NCRs and implementation of corrective/ preventative actions
  - d. Reduction in the occurrence and costly impact of nonconformances in terms of reputation, cost, and resources
  - e. Contribute to stronger financial performance and profitability
  - f. Improve customer satisfaction
  - g. Develop an efficient and competent workforce to support the Defence Marine Industry
  - h. Implement, review, and improve QMS with a focus on the training requirements
  - i. Improve employee onboarding efficiency and effectiveness.
4. The Quality Objectives are set by Managing Directors; further explanation of Quality Objectives is detailed in Q007. Objectives are set and reviewed by Management and are subject to change relative to the size and nature of Allship projects, and changes in compliance obligations. Allship is committed to continual improvement of the QMS through monitoring, recording, and correction of its processes. This is further supported via the provision of assurance activities and Management Review to ensure the highest quality outputs are delivered.
5. This document is to be displayed in an accessible position at all operational Allship sites and provided to Interested Parties as deemed necessary by Management.
